

CV for Lo Faber efaber@princeton.edu

4612 Camp Street, New Orleans, LA 70115 (908) 655-5097

EDUCATION

- PhD Princeton University (expected completion: Spring 2011)
Dissertation: A State of Constant Danger: United States Sovereignty and American Identity in New Orleans, 1800-1820 (Advisor: Sean Wilentz)
- MA Princeton University
History, September 2008
General Exam Fields & Examiners: The United States, 1754-1860 (Sean Wilentz, Peter Silver); The US & the World, 1815-1919 (Daniel T. Rodgers); The British Empire at War, 1688-1856 (Linda Colley)
- BA Skidmore College
American Studies, 2006
The Embargo of 1807: Jefferson, Madison, Gallatin, and the Wreck of Republican Ideology

FELLOWSHIPS & AWARDS

Princeton University Graduate Student Fellowship, 2006-07, 2007-08, 2008-09
Princeton History Department Rollins Award, 2008-2009

LECTURES & PRESENTATIONS

- “The German Coast Slave Rebellion of 1811, and the Problem of Knowability,” lecture designed for Princeton undergraduate history majors, March 30, 2009
- “The Dreamers: Elite American Newcomers in Territorial New Orleans,” presented at The Historic New Orleans Collection’s 15th Annual Williams Research Center Symposium, Between Colony & State: Louisiana in the Territorial Period, January 30, 2010

TEACHING

- HISTORY 370: Britain 1815-1945: Dominance, Democracy, and Decline*
(teaching assistant for Linda Colley, Fall 2008)
- HISTORY 377: Gilded Age & Progressive Era United States, 1877-1920*
(teaching assistant for Rebecca Rix, Spring 2009)

SERVICE & RESEARCH

- Co-Chair, Colonial Americas Workshop, 2008-09, and Committee Member 2007-08 (booked and organized events with visiting scholars)
- Graduate Student Liaison, U.S. 19th Century Job Search, Winter 2007-08, and Graduate Student Liaison, Colonial Americanist Job Search, Fall 2008
- Research Assistant, Thomas Bender, Fall 2008
- Multimedia Course Development, United States Gilded Age & Progressive Era, Summer 2009

AFFILIATIONS

American Historical Association; SHEAR; Omohundro Institute; Southern Historical Association; Louisiana Historical Society; Louisiana Historical Association; Tulane University (visiting scholar)